Site owners: Easily manage web site content

With Kentico CMS, you can edit web site content through a friendly browser-based interface – anytime and anywhere. You do not need to have any technical skills or be a programmer – you can create and update pages using an editor similar to Microsoft Word®. You simply enter the content, links and images to the page templates defined by web site developer and you do not need to care about the design and technical details.

Besides content editing, Kentico CMS allows you to communicate with your visitors and build on-line communities through forums, blogs, on-line forms or polls and create e-commerce sites to grow your sales on-line.

Developers: Rapidly develop advanced web sites

Whether you need to build a simple web site or a highly customized portal, Kentico CMS provides you with a powerful framework for delivering the site in the fastest possible way. Unlike other systems, Kentico CMS doesn't limit your creativity and allows you to build web sites with any design, structure and navigation. You have full control over the rendered (X)HTML code and CSS styles. Moreover, you can easily integrate your own .NET code or develop custom web parts and modules.

The browser-based development model allows developers to build powerful web sites without deep .NET knowledge, while experienced developers can create ASPX page templates in Visual Studio 2005/2008. Kentico CMS comes with fully documented API and database and includes more than 90 web parts ready for your web site.

Partners: Grow your business with a professional CMS

In today's highly competitive web design market, you can hardly afford development of your own content management system. At the same time, your clients realize the importance of their on-line marketing and require sophisticated web solutions. With Kentico CMS you can deliver great web sites with user-friendly administration interface and easily integrate additional modules without complex coding. Moreover, you can re-brand Kentico CMS and resell it as your product.

With Kentico CMS affordable price, you can offer advanced web site solutions to any client and win more projects by providing a better value. If you own a web design business register as a Kentico Solution Partner and get a special pricing, sales support and a listing in our partner directory.
